

MANY ROADS LEAD TO TIROL NEW TRAVEL ROUTES TO TIROL IN WINTER 2022/23

The choice of travel options by rail and air to Tirol will once again be significantly expanded in the 2022/23 winter season. WESTbahn rail is servicing Tirol for the first time, more precisely Innsbruck. German rail company, Deutsche Bahn, is launching a new year-round direct connection from Frankfurt to Innsbruck and extending the "Ski Express Tirol" ICE (inter-city) connection from Hamburg to St. Anton am Arlberg. A new ski train, the "TUI Ski Express," will shuttle from Amsterdam in the Netherlands to Tirol this winter and the Swedish ski express and night train, "Snalltaghet," from Malmö with stops in Copenhagen and Hamburg will be extended to Innsbruck. As of December, there are new direct flight connections from Paris to Innsbruck with Air France. This route will be supplemented by a weekly charter flight from the Tirolean travel specialist, Travel Europe. The direct Frankfurt - Innsbruck connection operated by Air Dolomiti/Lufthansa is to be continued and even expanded in winter. The flight connection to Bristol in England is being supplemented by an additional service from Jet2.com, while the scheduled flight to Stockholm resumes for the first time since the pandemic. Brussels will again be served by Transavia this winter, and a Berlin - Innsbruck connection with Austrian Airlines is also in the pipeline.

Flights to Tirol via Innsbruck Airport

Innsbruck Airport is optimally connected to the world flight network with numerous scheduled flight destinations in Austria (Vienna), Germany (Frankfurt, Hamburg), Great Britain (London [LHR, LGW, LTN, STN], Manchester, Birmingham, Bristol, Edinburgh), the Netherlands (Amsterdam, Rotterdam-Den Haag, Eindhoven), Belgium (Brussels, Antwerp) and Scandinavia. Thanks to its central location and immediate proximity to the city centre, short transfer times to the popular Tirolean destinations are possible. Flight news to and from Innsbruck below:

New: Frankfurt with Air Dolomiti/Lufthansa

The direct flight connection from Innsbruck to Frankfurt, one of the largest international hubs, was resumed with three daily connections from 2nd May 2022 after a pandemic-related break lasting several months. Flights are operated by Air Dolomiti, a 100% subsidiary of Deutsche Lufthansa AG as a Lufthansa and Star Alliance code share, using Embraer 195 aircraft with around 120 seats. The flight timetable will be increased to four daily services in winter. The return of the connection from Innsbruck to the Frankfurt hub makes it even easier to travel from anywhere in the world to and from Innsbruck. For bookings and prices, please visit www.airdolomiti.eu, www.lufthansa.com

New: Paris with Air France and additional charter flight service

Innsbruck and Tirol have been directly connected to the French capital for some time now. The direct flight connection from Innsbruck to Paris CDG will commence on 10th December 2022 and operate twice weekly on Saturdays and Sundays until 5th March 2023. The INN-CDG service will be operated by Air France and feature an Embraer E90 aircraft, which has a 100-seat capacity, including 12 seats in Business Class and 88 seats in Economy Class. The connection to Paris CDG also offers optimal connecting flights to the USA, Mexico City, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Santiago de Chile, China and other popular French destinations such as Toulouse, Bordeaux and Montpellier. Air France customers will soon be able to combine these new flights operated by Air France with those already operated by Transavia via Amsterdam (using the KL code). For bookings and prices, please visit www.airfrance.com

Furthermore, the Tirolean travel specialist and incoming agency, Travel Europe, is offering a weekly ski charter from Paris to Innsbruck. This connection will operate from 16th

December 2022 to 31st March 2023 and offers French winter sports enthusiasts and connoisseurs the opportunity to access Tirol quickly and easily direct from Paris.

New: Berlin with Austrian Airlines

Austrian Airlines is planning new direct weekly flights every Saturday from Berlin Brandenburg Airport to Innsbruck. These flights are expected to operate from 28th January to 25th February 2023. Bookings and information (anticipated from October 2022) at www.austrian.com.

New: Bristol with Jet2.com

From 24 December 2022, the English low-cost carrier Jet2 will connect the English city of Bristol with Innsbruck for the first time in winter. The direct and once weekly connection will operate on Saturdays until 15th April 2023. Bookings and information at www.jet2.com.

Reinstated: Brussels

Dutch airline Transavia will connect the Belgian capital Brussels with Innsbruck again from 22nd December 2022 to 12th April 2023. Flights will operate on Thursdays and Sundays and can be booked on www.transavia.com.

Reinstated: Stockholm

Scandinavian airline SAS will resume scheduled winter flights between Stockholm and Innsbruck from 29th January to 24th March 2023. The flight will operate on Sundays and can be booked on www.flysas.com.
