

More Power for the Alps:

Full Metal Mayrhofen extends the line-up!

Preparations for the first Full Metal Mayrhofen are in full swing. From 31st March to 5th April 2025, the Mayrhofen-Hippach holiday region will become the backdrop for a unique festival that combines the Alpine landscape with the intensity and energy of metal music. With bands such as Saltatio Mortis, Clawfinger, Faun and Hämatom, a top-class programme has already been confirmed. Now the line-up has grown even stronger: H-Blockx and Bad Loverz will complement the programme on the main stage "Forest Stage" and ensure even more musical diversity and drive. Moreover, the musical supporting programme on the mountain promises a one-of-a-kind festival experience.

New Bands on the Main Stage

H-Blockx have been one of Germany's most successful live acts since they were founded in Münster in 1990. With their high-energy crossover sound and hits like "Risin' High" and "Move", they've earned a permanent place on the rock scene and will be demonstrating their powerful prowess at Full Metal Mayrhofen.

Bad Loverz is a powerful homage to 80s glam rock. High-octane performances and their one-of-a-kind "Thundersack" instrument – offer a show that festivalgoers won't want to miss.

Supporting Programme on the Mountain

In addition to the main stages, festival visitors can look forward to a varied musical supporting programme at the Stieralm and Kasermandl-Alm on the Penken, with the Acoustic Guerillas, the Ballroom DJ Team, Blechblos'n, Da Rocka and da Waitler and Die Alphabeten. The line-up is rounded off by Heavy Kevy, Mit Ohne Strom and Mutz. In addition, the walking act Tabernis will be there as a special both on the mountain and on the Forest Stage. This "festival within a festival" promises a unique experience amidst an incredible alpine backdrop.

Day Tickets Available

If you can't attend the entire festival week, day tickets give you the opportunity to visit individual festival days and immerse yourself in the unique atmosphere of Full Metal Mayrhofen.

Day tickets for the events in the Brück'n Stadl on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are available for 30 euros each. Bokassa, All For Metal, Deine Cousine and Insanity Alert will be performing there. In addition, the Ballroom Hamburg DJ team will provide the music for the after-show parties.

On Friday and Saturday, the concerts will take place at the "Waldfestplatz" – Forest Stage. Dominum, Clawfinger and Faun will be on stage on Friday and Warkings, Hämatom and Saltatio Mortis on Saturday. The line-up has now been expanded to include H-Blockx and Bad Lovorz. Day tickets for the concerts at Waldfestplatz cost 80 euros each.

The musical supporting programme on the mountain is free for all festival visitors. A ski pass or (discounted) pedestrian ticket is required to use the Penkenbahn.

The six- and two-day tickets are still available, offering the full festival experience. In addition to the concerts, Full Metal Mayrhofen offers the opportunity to go skiing, snowboarding or winter hiking. Guests can also relax with metal yoga, wellness and spa treatments and enjoy the culinary delights of the region.
